

Contributor Agreement

This agreement sets out the terms and conditions under which you agree to permit the Australian National University (ANU) as represented by the Federal Law Review to reproduce and communicate your manuscript entitled:

[title]

and the circumstances in which you permit the ANU to sub-licence third parties to do so.

Terms and conditions:

I, [name] _____ of [address] _____ :

Agree:

1. To warrant that:
  - i) the manuscript is an original work;
  - ii) I am the copyright owner of the entire manuscript;
  - iii) I do not require the consent of any person to enter into this agreement;
  - iv) the manuscript does not infringe the copyright of any person;
  - v) the manuscript contains no libellous or unlawful matter; and
  - vi) the manuscript makes no improper invasion on the privacy of another person;
2. To indemnify the ANU for any loss or damage incurred or arising by reason of the publication of my manuscript in the Federal Law Review or a breach of the warranties above;
3. To acknowledge that I shall retain copyright in the manuscript. I grant the ANU a perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free, world-wide licence to reproduce or communicate my manuscript in any form associated with publication or communication of the Federal Law Review (including a right to sub-licence in accordance with clause 4) and I acknowledge and agree that the ANU will retain any royalties/remuneration (including Copyright Agency Limited payments) arising from such publications and communications;
4. That the ANU may sub-licence third parties to reproduce or communicate my manuscript, including communication on the Internet or through electronic or on-line databases, on such terms as the ANU thinks fit. Where such sub-licences result in royalties/remuneration being received, I agree that the ANU may retain the royalties/remuneration;

5. To grant other educational institutions in Australia a perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free licence to reproduce or communicate my manuscript as published in the Federal Law Review or by third parties in accordance with clause 4 for their educational purposes;
6. That:
  - i) I may only publish the submitted version of my manuscript online,
  - ii) I cannot republish the Federal Law Review final version, and
  - iii) the ANU may publish the Federal Law Review final version of the work online.
7. That any form of reproduction or communication of my manuscript shall include reference to the issue of the Federal Law Review in which my manuscript is reproduced.

I agree to the terms and conditions of reproduction and communication set out above.
